Many of your clients will have enjoyed corporate boxes at large sporting events, eating out at London's top restaurants or maybe a short ski break in the Alps. But ask yourself, how different these events might be to those of your competitors? Are you working hard enough and applying the same rigour as you would in any other major investment decision to the scope, nature and desired outcomes of your events?

Mission can help by delivering joint experiences that transcend the typical transactional event by facilitating experiences where relationships can be forged to last.

Your events will need to be original and meet all of your specific objectives. You will be looking for a provider who can work with you to create and deliver refreshingly different programmes in this country and overseas. Your event objectives will be demanding and you will have high expectations of the provider you choose.

Mission are working with some of the world's most successful organisations in the creation and delivery of events all around the world. From Indonesia to the Swiss Alps, Mission delivers consistently high return on investment.

Examples Include:

- Round the Island Racing with Mission's Ocean Racing Skippers on identical yachts
- Alpine Mountaineering or Ski Touring with Mission's Everest Mountaineers
- Dog Sledging in the Arctic with Mission's Polar Explorers

You will have appreciated Mission's wide range of experience and international network of specialists who will deliver for you as part of your extended team. We will be candid and constructive in our input and work very flexibly.

All programmes are exclusively bespoke and inclusive to all.

Please contact us to discuss the various options with one of our team.
