

welcome to mission performance

Who we are...

Mission Performance is a refreshing, exciting and proven professional development consultancy. Founded to combine the excitement of experiential and media rich training with the intellectual rigor of a business consultancy.

What we do...

We provide professional development services and solutions to our clients from graduate to executive level. Our portfolio is delivered by inspirational consultants who have first hand experience, creating and leading teams in seriously challenging environments, both in business and on expeditions. This approach guarantees content credibility and ensures a high impact and deeply inspirational learning experience. The content, length and style of each programme are dependent upon your specific business needs.

How we do it...

Our methodology is engaging, inspirational and straightforward, enabling clearly definable returns on investment. All solutions are executed on a sound commercial business case rationale, underpinned by robust intellectual property and pre-tested on teams who have to perform in the most extreme environments on earth.

Who we do it for...

We provide solutions for large graduate intakes through to executive development and coaching. We also work with business leaders and existing and newly forming teams of any size. Mission is already a provider of choice for clients from the finance, oil, retail, air and service sectors delivering solutions and services in the UK and internationally.
